Monster Hail Hits Holdrege

Lincoln Star Special

Baseball size hailstones ripped through the Holdrege region about 6 p.m. Friday afternoon blizzarding crops and causing extensive property damage to homes and businesses.

The Holdrege police department reported that there were no windows facing north in the business district that were not broken. They also reported 25% breakage of north windows in the residential areas of the town.

Automobiles parked in the streets were badly "beat up" and many windshields and rear windows were broken. A shipment of 19 new cars parked on a dealer's lot were a total loss when the driving hail crushed the tops level with the bottom of the windows.

Trees and tree branches were down in all areas of the town and only two phone lines into the city were operating. High wind which followed the hail tangled phone, telegraph and electric wires.

An inch and .82 of rain fell in the city. Wind lashed rain cut visibility in the country to "zero at times" according to one witness.

Three persons were treated for glass cuts.

Small Twister

A small twister struck at Loomis, near Holdrege, twisting and mauling small grain. Estimates reported ranged as high as 85% of the new crop shattered by wind and hail.

"It's going to be practically impossible for anyone to get the grain out of those fields," policemen said.

Estimates on the amount of crop and property loss in the storm were unavailable but one insurance man said that it would run "very, very heavy."

The weatherman, however, promises perfect 4th of July weather for all fireworks and picnic fans Saturday. Skies will be partly cloudy, but most of those will be of the big, fluffy, pillow type.

Temperatures are expected to be in the 80s and 90s. There is an outside chance that rain might intrude into the picture but only in light and scattered amounts toward evening.

Imperial had the high for the state Friday with 94. The low was reported at Scottsbluff with a 61. Lincoln had 87 and 63.

Meanwhile, Lincoln was getting its 4th of July fireworks a day early as lightning cracked and thunder boomed across the skies shaking loose approximately one-half inch of rain by early Saturday morning.

Students Riot In Nicaragua

Managua, Nicaragua (P)—Anti-government student riots broke out Friday at the University of Leon, 70 miles northwest of Managua.

The trouble began with a report that Carlos Fonseca Amador, a student leader, had died in Honduras of wounds received when Honduran troops broke up a revolutionary band last week.

The rebels were poised at Chaparral on the Nicaraguan border when the Honduran troops broke up the group.

July Satellite Eyed By U.S.

Washington (P)—An effort to put a 90-pound satellite into space will be made by the U. S. about mid-July, informed officials said Friday night.

The satellite, equipped with a variety of scientific devices, is designed to check further on the high-energy radiation belt surrounding the earth.

The satellite is due to be launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla. officials indicated.

Sharks Move In; Bathers Get Out

Brigantine, N.J. (P)—Bathers beat a hasty retreat from the Atlantic Ocean at a beach here Friday when 5 sharks showed up to join the fun.

Lifeguards didn't think it was funny. They chased the bathers from the surf when they spotted the 5 fins in knee-deep water.

Witnesses said the sharks were as big as grown men. Brigantine is about 5 miles north of Atlantic City.

Terry 'Pleased' With Tax Report

Lincoln Star Special

Scottsbluff, Neb.—Sen. Terry Carpenter said Friday he was "pleased" with the amount of property being added to tax rolls this year, but added he was "convinced at least that much more could be added if the governor would do his job."

With property valuation reports from 66 counties processed through the Tax Commissioner's office, unofficial tabulations show an increase of some $192 million (4½%) in the actual value of tangible property, a jump of almost $60 million (30%) in Class A intangibles, and a huge $76 million (115%) increase in Class B intangibles.

Carpenter, who conducted a 15-month Legislative Council tax law violation study resulting in strict tax enforcement laws passed by the 1959 Legislature, said he believes "people still are not reporting all they should, particularly in the areas of business inventories, furniture, fixtures and equipment."

The Scottsbluff senator commented, "If the governor would stop his talking long enough to act as governor and direct the tax commissioner to investigate some of these returns, I'm sure in my own mind we could add another $250-500 million to the tax rolls."

Carpenter declared, "We would have had no new tax laws if we had depended upon the governor for any direction."

"Brooks never appeared before the Revenue Committee which heard all of the proposed tax laws, and at no time did he ever contact me relative to any of the tax measures, including the parimutuel tax," Carpenter said.

DOCTOR FAILS TO SAVE SON

Minneapolis (P)—A doctor helped pull his drowned son from a lake Friday, gave mouth-to-mouth respiration for 10 minutes, and then pronounced the child dead.

"It was too late," said Dr. Harris G. Bernhisel, father of the 5-year-old victim.

49'ER GETS A BIG BANG

An Eskimo airman from Cold Creek, Alaska, A-3c Neal Wilson, was so happy to pose with the new 49-star flag symbolizing Alaska's official entry into statehood on July 4th that he didn't mind donning a parka in Lincoln's un-arctic temperatures. Now stationed at Lincoln Air Force Base, Wilson was born in McGrath, Alaska, and graduated from Anchorage High School. (Star Photo by Frank O'Neill)

ALASKANS WELCOMED

New Style U.S. Flag Flies First At Historic Ft. McHenry

Baltimore (Saturday) (P)—The first official 49-star flag was hoisted into the still night air above historic Ft. McHenry bare moments after the start of this day commemorating the nation's independence.

Alaska now is, in every respect, one of these United States. Its star is there with the rest.

A short time before, there were bursting rockets and the heavy crash of howitzers. And speeches.

Then silence as the moment came. Thousands gathered on the grassy peninsula turned their eyes toward the hand-hewn Douglas fir staff.

As the newest old glory rose slowly to the top, a 49-gun salute boomed across the night.

The air was deathly still as the flag inched upward. When it reached the top, however, almost as if by prearranged signal, a slight breeze stirred through the harbor, ruffling the colors.

The 49-star flag was official.

President Eisenhower, in a special message, said it was appropriate that this spiked finger of land extending into the inner Baltimore harbor should be the site for the flag's first flying.

"At this site," his statement said, "we are especially mindful of the brave flag which inspired the writing of our National Anthem."

"Since that time the boundaries of the United States have expanded greatly—first across the Western frontier and now into the Far

Tot Killed In Plattsmouth Road Mishap

Plattsmouth, Neb. (P)—James Norris, 2½, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Norris, was killed late Friday when he walked into the side of a gravel truck.

The boy was crossing a county road near the Norris home two miles south and one mile west of Louisville.

Sheriff Tom Solomon said truck driver Alvin C. Fredericks, Ashland, related that he saw the boy start across the road and pulled the truck onto the shoulder of the road but the boy kept coming.

The death raised the state's 1959 traffic toll to 144 compared with 150 on July 3 of last year.

New Flag Of U.S.

Flies In Tokyo

Tokyo (Saturday) (P)—The new 49-star U.S. flag was raised over the U.S. Embassy in Tokyo at 7 a.m. Saturday without fanfare.

The flag, symbolizing the addition of Alaska as the 49th American state, was hoisted by Sgt. Louis Chelle, 24, of Willard, N.Y.

Ambassador Douglas MacArthur will hold a party at the embassy later in the day to celebrate American Independence Day.

North country of Alaska, and soon beyond the ocean shore to include the islands of Hawaii.

"The knowledge of a growing America fills us with pride, but we know too that our growing strength has brought new responsibilities. As a nation we are today responsible for the rights and liberties of 20 times as many Americans as once lived under the protecting guns of Ft. McHenry, and as a leader among the nations, we bear a major responsibility for the mutual security of the free world."

"Our independence, therefore, is no longer celebrated alone . . ."

His statement was read by Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton, who represented the President here.

It was here at Ft. McHenry 145 years ago that Francis Scott Key, a young lawyer, saw the Star Spangled Banner in the first blush of dawn still waving defiantly after an all-night British bombardment. This meant the American forces still held the fort and entrance to Baltimore.

—West Berlin—

Nikita Said Unsure Of West's Firmness

Bonn, Germany (P)—W. Averell Harriman said Friday that Soviet Premier Khrushchev is ill-informed about the West's firm position on Berlin.

Harriman, a former ambassador to Moscow and a former governor of New York, came here after a 6-week visit to the Soviet Union. He conferred twice with Khrushchev.

Harriman said he is concerned about the East-West crisis that has developed over Communist-encircled Berlin.

Firm Position

Newsman questioned him about reports in American newspapers that Khrushchev had taken a tough line in discussing Berlin.

Harriman made this statement in reply to the questions:

"I am concerned about the Berlin situation, particularly because I found Khrushchev ill-informed about the firm position of the West."

Eyes Full Report

"I am going to report fully on the impressions I gained on my trip through the Soviet Union and my talks with Khrushchev on my return to the U.S."

In Bonn, Harriman conferred with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his top aides. He described to them

Asked if Adenauer was concerned by what he said, Harriman replied:

"Adenauer is a man who doesn't concern easily. He is a very realistic man."

Silver Creek Man Dies In Truck Crash

Blair, Neb. (P)—Joe Starostka, 41, Silver Creek, was killed Friday in the collision of his truck and a truck driven by Albert Bly, 54, of Blair, on Nebraska 133 6½ miles southwest of Blair.

The accident took place on a section of the highway under construction and closed to traffic. The State Safety Patrol said it had not been determined whether the death would be ruled a traffic fatality.

The patrol said Starostka died in the accident. No other details were available.

Brake Line Slashers Face Stern Penalties

By Del Harding

If caught the vandals who have slashed hydraulic brake lines on 13 Lincoln cars during the past week could be fined $100 and sentenced to 6 months in jail.

Police Chief Joe Carroll said the persons responsible for the slashings may believe they were committing only a prank. But he pointed out that a fatal accident could easily result from a car being unknowingly driven with no brakes.

Carroll said the brake line slashings constitute "Mischief."

The violator also may be imprisoned in the county jail up to 6 months.

Carroll urged Lincolinites to report to police any information they might believe would help solve the slashings.

Most of the incidents are believed to have occurred Monday night and all occurred in south Lincoln. All of the cars involved were

6 Doctors Warn Long

GOVERNOR TURNS BACK ON ADVICE He's Ready For A Strenuous Tour

Baton Rouge, La. (AP)—Louisiana Gov. Earl K. Long arrived here Friday night and went directly to the mansion where a throng greeted the ailing executive with shouts of "Hey, Governor, hey, Governor."

He drove here from New Orleans, 83 miles southeast of here, where 6 doctors had warned him against making stump speeches Saturday in his campaign for re-election.

It was Long's first trip back to the capital since he was arrested here and committed to a state mental hospital June 18. He later freed himself by firing hospital authorities and installing new appointees, who ordered his release.

Frazar Greets Him

Lt. Gov. Letha Frazar greeted the governor here. Long waved to the crowd, then went into the mansion, aides said, for a nap before a political gathering later in the night.

Among mansion guests, too, was 14-year-old David Rankin of Texas City, Tex., who became a friend of the governor while the two were in the same hospital in Galveston, Tex., early in June. Long said he planned to adopt the boy, but the parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rankin, said they had not given their consent.

Earlier in New Orleans, 6 doctors had warned Long not to risk further damage to his ailing heart by launching a re-election campaign Saturday.

"If I'm feeling all right in the morning," one of his aides quoted the governor, "I'll be on the road."

Ever since Wednesday when Long suffered what was described as a slowdown or slight failure of his heart, the physicians have been trying to get the 63-year-old governor to ease off on a back-breaking schedule.

In a final effort to convince him, they look a long look at his faltering heart, through a series of tests that included an electrocardiograph to ascertain past damage. Long suffered an all-out heart attack 9 years ago.

5 Appearances

Then Long was handed the verdict—call off 5 scheduled 4th of July appearances before the voters.

Long promptly replied. He said he's going right ahead with his plans—providing he feels all right when he awakens in the morning.

Dr. Paul Pratt, Long's psychiatrist, was asked if the checkup involved mental as well as physical examination. He replied:

"It is hard to have one without the other."

Colombia Ship Sinks; 5 Lost

Cristobal, Canal Zone (UPI)—The 357-ton Colombian freighter Rio Atrato caught fire, exploded and sank 200 miles northeast of here early Friday. It was believed that 5 of the 43 Colombians aboard were killed.

The causes of the fire and explosion could not be determined immediately.

A German freighter picked up 38 survivors. The U. S. military transport Henry Gibbins remained at the site of the sinking, seeking some trace of 5 missing crewmen.

Nicaraguan 'Invaders' Flown Back To Cuba

Havana (AP)—A commercial airliner arrived from Honduras Friday night with 28 Cubans captured by Honduran authorities last week in an abortive attempt to invade Nicaragua.

A few of those leaving the plane were wearing bandages.

Cuban military vehicles drew up and whisked the men away before reporters could talk to them.

Earl Ballentine was installed as president of the Lincoln Assn. of Life Underwriters at the group's last meeting.

Other officers are: Joseph Neal, vice president and Roger Penrice, secretary-treasurer.

Duane Demaree, Jerry Duling and Donald Leising were elected to the board of directors for 3-year terms. John Gossin, Richard Seckinger and Robert Wagner were named for two-year terms.

Two members of the group were honored. Jerry Duling received a plaque for 5 years service as senior chairman of the life department of the Life Underwriters Training Council.

George Albin was cited by the council for his service as chairman of the accident and sickness department.

Castro Is Confident Of Ability To Handle Foes

... To Handle Foes

Havana (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro appeared confident of his ability to handle any counter-revolutionary movement against his Cuban regime—either from within or without.

Castro told a TV audience "a troop of Boy Scouts" would be ample to handle armed bands reportedly roaming the mountains near Pinar del Rio in western Cuba.

As to fears voiced abroad that there may be an armed clash between Cuba and Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo's Dominican Republic, Castro said:

"We will not worry if Dominican troops, plus all Trujillo's mercenaries and all others he can hire disembark on our shores."

"We will not ask assistance of anybody... because we know against whom we must fight and we will have people who can and will fight."

Cuba broke diplomatic relations with the Dominican Republic last week after Trujillo's government accused Cuba of organizing anti-Dominican conspiracies.

Nebraskan Finds Life In Alaska Not Too Rugged

Omaha (AP)—A woman with a Nebraska background found a school teacher's job in Alaska isn't necessarily as rugged as it may sound.

"Why, the winters are no worse than Nebraska's and sometimes not as bad," said Mabel Gillham. "Alaska doesn't have as much wind, either."

Alaska pays its teachers more, she said, and contrary to the general opinion living expenses aren't a great deal higher in the 49th state.

Miss Gillham, a native of David City, taught there, then for about 15 years was principal-teacher at Washington Grade School in North Platte. She went to Anchorage, Alaska 5 years ago.

Miss Gillham plans to visit relatives at Lincoln and Kearney before returning to Anchorage in a few weeks.

FIRE IN PENTAGON

Electronics Loss About $6 Million

Washington (AP)—About 6 million dollars worth of electronic brain machines were declared a total loss after officials clambered through the fire-ravaged Air Force statistical center at the Pentagon.

The damage in the 4-hour fire was bigger than that, but an over-all estimate must await a more thorough check. This may not be finished until Monday.

In the meantime, International Business Machines Corp. sent a team of specialists to help the Air Force install replacement equipment and get its statistical operation reorganized as soon as possible.

The 3 computer systems melted by the flames were owned by IBM and leased to the Air Force, along with other equipment, for 3½ million dollars a year. A company spokesman said in New York that all the machines were fully insured.

HERMIT IS 'REALLY OFF THE BEAM'

Los Angeles (AP)—The hermit of Griffith Park was described by a psychiatrist as "definitely off the beam." But the psychiatrist said treatment should restore Dennis Farrell to sound mental health within a few months.

Last Monday, Farrell, 32, came out of the 4,200-acre park where he had retreated from civilization 6 years ago.

He lived in caves and brush and subsisted on berries, fruits and picnic scraps.

Seriously Ill

A group of psychiatrists at General Hospital examined Farrell and reported that the World War II combat veteran is seriously mentally ill with a schizophrenic condition. He's unpredictable and potentially dangerous to others, they said.

"Providing that his condition is of fairly recent duration he should require only a few months hospitalization," said Dr. James McGinnis, chief psychiatrist at the hospital. "The average case with the same condition is usually cured after 6 months treatment."

Farrell, his beard and flowing hair neatly cut, Wednesday met his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher P. Farrell of North Platte, Neb. for the first time since 1952.

CAROLINA COUPLE MAY PUT UP TRIPLETS FOR ADOPTION

Wilmington, N.C. (UPI)—The tall farmer ran his fingers nervously through his graying hair as he described his dilemma.

"I've talked it over with my wife," he said. "We want the girls to have a good life but it seems we aren't able to give it to them."

The girls are Glenda, 5 pounds, 14 ounces; Linda, 3 pounds; and Brenda, 4 pounds, 11 ounces. They were born in that order, within the space of 43 minutes 6 days ago.

And 55-year-old Nathan B. Miller must soon decide if he will go through with his idea to turn them over for adoption.

"Of course, it would break our hearts but we just don't see how we can manage," Miller says. "Pinkie, 35, 'sees my point of view.'"

"If we could find a good couple, we would consider letting them adopt the girls." Already several persons have inquired about adoption.

Shriners Are Atlantic City Bound Tonight

A delegation of 115 Shriners from Lincoln's Sesostris Temple will leave by train Saturday night for the Imperial Council Session next Monday through Thursday at Atlantic City, N. J.

The group will board 5 special cars at 9 p.m. for the trip, arriving Monday morning at the convention city.

Shrine officials said another 150 Shriners from the Lincoln area will travel by car and plane. Gov. Ralph Brooks, also a Shriner, will fly to Atlantic City for the Session activities.

A highlight is the inaugural pageant Wednesday for Dr. Clayton F. Andrews of Lincoln, now Deputy Imperial Potentate, who is scheduled to become the new Imperial Potentate of the Shrine of North America.

About 200 Sesostris Temple members going to the session will participate in the pageant.

Derailment Ruled Cause Of Georgia Park Holocaust

Atlanta (AP)—An investigator for the Georgia Public Service Commission said that a derailment caused the release of liquefied petroleum gas which exploded and killed at least 21 persons at Merdriam, Ga., last Sunday.

In a report to the PSC, Don Lawrence said probably it will never be known what ignited the cloud of butane gas which enveloped a recreation area at a trestle over the Ogechee river.

But it is possible, he added, that it was caused by a spark from an open fire as some people were cooking in the area. Other possibilities, he said, included a spark from an auto exhaust or a cigar or cigarette spark.

Camera Equipment At West O Theater Taken

A belated report of a burglary at the West O Drive-In Theater was made by the Sheriff's office Friday.

Two projection lenses valued at $500 and several other items of camera equipment reportedly were stolen from the theater's projection booth late Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning. The total loss was placed at about $524, deputies said.

Mistrial Motion Denied In Mack-Whiteside Trial

Washington (AP)—Richard A. Mack and Thurman A. Whiteside were turned down Friday on a move for mistrial in their conspiracy case. They asked it on the ground that no one knows when an ailing juror may return to duty.

U.S. District Judge Burnita S. Matthews rejected the motion and put off further proceedings until Tuesday.

That brought to an end a day of confusion during which:

1. Defense lawyers and government prosecutors first entered into an agreement under which an 11-member jury would have been allowed to decide the guilt or innocence of Mack, former member of the Federal Communications Commission, and Whiteside, "wealthy Miami lawyer. They are accused of conspiring to bring improper pressure to bear on the award of a television channel in Miami.

2. Mack's chief counsel, Nicholas Chase, backed out of the agreement on the ground Judge Matthews had neglected to tell the defense the jury Thursday had asked for documents and portions of the trial transcript.

Jurors Go Home

Turning down the defense motion for a mistrial, Judge Matthews sent the 11 remaining jurors home with instructions to return next Tuesday.

What happens then may hinge largely, if not entirely, upon the health of J. D. Carroll, 65.

There have been no jury deliberations since Thursday when Carroll, complaining of stomach pains, was taken from the jury room for medical attention. He has been in the hospital since, and his physician declined Friday to predict as to when he might be able to resume jury duty.

There had been about 5½ hours of jury deliberations before Carroll became ill.

Suit Will Test Cemetery Law Of Long Standing

Holdrege, Neb. (AP)—A District Court suit will test the constitutionality of a Nebraska statute enacted more than a decade ago which allows cemetery districts to be formed as tax supporting bodies.

The suit was filed by 33 resident property owners within the recently-created Moses Hill Cemetery District northwest of Holdrege.

Maintenance and upkeep of the Pioneer Cemetery has been, for years, under the jurisdiction of a cemetery association. Early this year a move was started to replace the association with a district. A sufficient number of signatures was secured and the district went into effect on July 1.

To create a cemetery district, under LB148, passed by the Legislature in 1945, a simple majority of the landowners within the proposed district must be in favor.

Omahan Arrested In Iowa Robbery

Omaha (AP)—John Henry Taylor, 29, Omaha, was arrested Friday in connection with the burglary of the Mineola State Bank of Mineola, Ia., June 15.

Special Agent in charge Joseph E. Thornton of the Omaha office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said FBI agents arrested Taylor,

No Additional Polio Cases Are Reported

No additional polio cases have been reported in Lancaster County, according to Morris Siegel, Lancaster County president for the National Foundation.

However, Lincoln General Hospital reported Friday the admittance of a 16-year-old Falls City boy as a "possible" polio case. The youth has received no immunization shots, officials said.

Lincoln's 5 hospitalized polio patients are all reported as "improving."

Mrs. Ruth Carmel was reported in fair condition, while Larry Burton and Mrs. Janice Irwin were listed in good condition. All 3 are at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Two children, Dean Holloway and Zebbie Buzick, were in good condition at Lincoln General Hospital.

Lincoln recorded its first polio death of the year last Sunday, when Mrs. Mayme Ellen Kaeding died.

Nine cases have been reported in Lancaster County thus far.

Public Can Use Cherry Co. Road

The public has a right to use a sandhills road in Cherry County leading to the Rat Lake state recreation area, the Nebraska Supreme Court said in an opinion Friday.

The court's opinion affirms the Cherry County District Court in granting right-of-way to the public on the road, but the high court modified the language to mean the public has "an easement across the land" rather than "title to" the road.

The suit was brought by both the State Game, Forestation and Parks Commission and the Rat Lake Club, Inc., which owns land adjacent to the lake. They named Clint and Gretchen Hull, owners of the land which the road crosses.

The Hulls erected a barrier across the road in September, 1958. The game commission and Rat Lake Club brought action to enjoin the Hulls from obstructing the road, and the action was upheld by the district court for Cherry County.

The commission and club maintained the road had been used by the public more than 10 years prior to the barrier, and that Cherry County has recognized the road as a public highway by doing maintenance.

The court ruled the public has a right to a 20-foot-wide road through the area.

Steel Bargainings In Recess

Cleveland (AP)—The steel industry labor negotiations are in weekend recess. A wildcat strike at Republic Steel Corp.'s local plant was being smoothed out Friday night. But around the Great Lakes there was some resistance to the steelworkers union order to keep the ore boats going.

In New York there was a joint announcement from negotiators for 12 major steel companies and the union, which is headed by David J. McDonald.

It said that because the past week has been "exceedingly wearing," Friday's session was recessed after one hour. A weekend of "rest and meditation" would help both sides attack their problems better next week, it said.

1 Labor contracts were to have expired June 30 but were extended two weeks at the request of President Eisenhower.

Open hearth workers, who had started the local walkout Tuesday night, voted to return at the urging of union officials all along the line.

Touring Governors Take Look At Farm-Soviet Style

By Morris Rosenberg
Kiev, U.S.S.R. (AP)—Visiting U.S. governors left the big-city beat on their tour of the Soviet Union Friday and spent a morning down on the collective farm.

They drove from Kiev, the Soviet Union's third largest city, 25 miles out into the rolling countryside to a farm named Ksaverovka.

The drive took the governors past huge wheat fields and other farm lands. They saw women, their heads covered with the traditional shawls, harvesting the crops.

Signs Everywhere
They passed thatched-roofed farm houses and through villages filled with ubiquitous signs urging the people to complete the goals of the new 7-year plan in 5 years.

They saw roadside signs calling for greater glory to the Communist Party and the Soviet Union. There is no other billboard advertising in this country.

The governors were welcomed by the farm director, Vasily Vassilievich Rubanik. Rubanik said the collective farm was a voluntary organization of small peasants. After paying 14% tax to the government, farm income is used for capital investments and operating expenses, he said.

8800 A Year
The income that remains is divided among the farm workers. Rubanik said each worker's share averages about 8,000 rubles ($800 at the tourist rate of 10-1).

Each worker has about an acre plot where he can grow his own vegetables for consumption and for sale. The director said each family averages about 8,000 rubles a year from its plot.

5,000 Acres
There are 518 families totaling 2,100 persons on the Ksaverovka farm. There are about 5,000 acres of arable land producing wheat, sugar beets and vegetables. The farm also has 1,000 head of cattle, 1,100 pigs and 6,000 hens.

The governors visited the cowsheds and a group of milkmaids posed with them for pictures. One milkmaid told Mrs. Robert B. Meyner, wife of the governor of New Jersey.

"We Soviet milkmaids send best regards to the American milkmaids. We will catch up with the Americans in production and live in friendship. Come again to visit us next year and see our progress."

Citizens Council Plans 3 Studies

Three studies have been authorized by the Nebraska Citizens Council board of trustees.

These studies include a summary and analysis of 1959 legislative action, with special attention to constitutional amendments, state and local expenditures, and tax bills; a tax levy report on county, city and state and school districts taxes; and a comparative tax evaluation report for the month of July.

Two committees were appointed. One will investigate the feasibility of another tax structure study and the other will arrange for the annual meeting and tax conference scheduled for November.

Auto Finance Firm Hearing Motion Denied

The Nebraska Supreme Court Friday overruled motions for a new hearing by Associates Discount Corp., resident manager Jack F. Kemnitz, and Theodore L. Richling, receiver.

The motions were filed after the Supreme Court held last April that Associates Discount had violated state law in more than 400 automobile financing deals, and ordered it to return to the borrowers payments received on the void loans, and cancel any unpaid balance.

The case was brought in 1955 by the state attorney general and Department of Banking. The firm, a subsidiary of Associates Investment Co. of South Bend, Ind., discontinued operations in Nebraska shortly afterward.

A supplemental opinion, however, set aside part of the court's April opinion holding that Richling is entitled to fees of $12,000, and his counsel $4,380 for services rendered after Nov. 12, 1957.

The court now says the fees should be fixed by the trial court at a hearing after the purposes for which the receivership was created have been fully carried out.

Need Any Elephants? -Visitor Has 12,750

By Margrethe Plum
"I've every kind of elephant you can think of from jade to soap."

This is the claim made by Mrs. Ralph Bedell, the owner of 12,750 miniature elephants.

In the last 4 years, Mrs. Bedell and her husband have travelled 500,000 miles, a distance equal to 20 trips around the world. In these years, Mrs. Bedell has looked for and collected elephants of innumerable shapes, sizes and materials.

For 4 years Dr. Bedell was Secretary General of the South Pacific Commission, an intergovernmental organization supported by France, the Netherlands, Great Britain, New Zealand, Australia, and the United States.

Spoke On South Pacific
He and his wife are in Lincoln as Dr. Bedell, presently with the U.S. Department of Education and formerly on the faculty of the University of Nebraska, was the featured speaker at the Superintendent's Round Table luncheon at NU. Mrs. Bedell spoke to the wives of the superintendents on "Lasting Impressions of the South Pacific."

While in the Pacific they lived in New Caledonia, an island inhabited by Frenchmen and natives.

"Unlike most Americans, we were in a situation where there were no other Americans among us. Social life was different. The worst problem was food costs. Eggs cost $2 a dozen and one chicken could cost $5."

Couldn't Quite Do It
We ate French food that had been imported and we also ate a great many canned goods. The natives would eat dried or fried flying bats but we couldn't quite do that."

Mrs. Bedell has purses, dresses, and stationery with elephant designs. She has a hand made pink jade elephant from Singapore which is 1,000 years old.

"Practically everything I have has an elephant motif. This collection is probably the largest privately owned in the United States."

One of the most unique elephant items in Mrs. Bedell's collection is a formal blouse from the Philippines. It is called a "barog tagalog" and is the only one ever made with an elephant design. It was completely hand-sewn and the material is made of pineapple fiber.

D.C. is furnished with carved elephant teakwood furniture from Hong Kong. In her dining room she has a collection of 30 or 40 ebony elephants from Africa.

"Friends say our house looks even more like a museum than the Smithsonian Institute," laughs Mrs. Bedell.

In her collection there are necklaces and bracelets with elephant designs from India, Siam, New Zealand, and French Equatorial Africa. She has oil and water color pictures of elephants.

She is the owner of sterling silver elephant pins and a 6-yard Indian Sari, which has an elephant motif, that was given to her by an Indian doctor on Dr. Bedell's staff.

"While we were on the Fiji Islands, the High Commissioner of India wanted to send me a live elephant," recalls Mrs. Bedell, "but my husband very quickly vetoed that."

Mrs. Bedell started collecting elephants when she was 6 years old.

"I went to a circus and saw a pygmy elephant. I asked my father if I could have it and instead of getting the live elephant, my father gave me a hobby horse made like an elephant." Mrs. Bedell has been collecting elephants ever since.

Dundee Is Charged In Lincoln, Too

The Iowan who is acting as Miss Iowa's promotion agent and was arrested in Des Moines on check charges is also wanted by Lincoln authorities.

The man, Arvum Katelman alias Buddy Dundee, is charged in Lancaster County Court with defrauding an innkeeper in a complaint signed by the operator of the Sleepy Hollow Motel, who alleges Dundee defrauded him of $148.80 in lodging June 22.

Dundee, of Council Bluffs, Ia., was released on bond in Des Moines after pleading innocent to two no account check charges. He was there accompanying Kay Nielson, recently crowned Council Bluffs girl who will represent Iowa in the Miss Universe Pageant.

Dundee also got in trouble with Lancaster District Court Judge Harry A. Spencer during the November 1958, murder trial of Carl Fugate.

Judge Spencer called Dundee into court and publicly reprimanded him for allegedly "making book" on the probable trial outcome. No charges were filed as a result of the incident, however.

A Pioneer Trail

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

With his retirement as superintendent of the Lincoln State Hospital, Dr. Franklin L. Spradling leaves behind him 16 years of progress in the treatment and care of the mentally ill. He would be the first to tell you that the pride we can take today in our state mental institution is not entirely of his doing.

His work has been a part of the progress of the times and there have been many people associated with him who have contributed immeasurably to the improved conditions which exist at the Lincoln hospital. But Dr. Spradling has been the force behind things at the hospital. It is his capable administration of the affairs of the institution and his willingness to discard the old for the new which have brought about the achievements of which we can not boast. And there is plenty at the Lincoln hospital to make us proud of what we have there.

Much By Way Of Progress

Things were neatly summed up by Dr. Spradling when he talked of the changes which have been made since the day he came 16 years ago. People who have not seen a mental institution in recent years would be amazed to go through the Lincoln hospital. There are no high walls or fences, of course, and the only bars one sees are on the single maximum security building.

Nor do the facilities consist of dark and dingy buildings through which patients wander in hopelessness and despair. The surroundings are bright, clean and comfortable and many of the patients make tremendous progress. Even though some may never leave the institution, a real life is provided for them.

They are encouraged to take part in various programs which can develop their individuality and give them a feeling of contributing something worthwhile to the world around them. Perhaps there is but little they can do, but even the slightest activity or contribution is nurtured into what amounts to real therapy for the patient. In short, the patients are no longer considered and treated as lost members of society.

And many of them do return now to friends and families on the outside. All of this is because the mentally ill person has come to be recognized as a diseased individual — sick with a malady for which a cure is sometimes possible and help, at least, is a certainty. This change in approach to the problem is perhaps the most significant thing which has happened over the past two decades.

It is the thing which has led to the improvement of facilities and personnel. Without this change on the part of both the public and professional people involved, we would still be living in the terrible dark ages of years ago when insanity meant existence below the level of animal life. Nothing mankind has done in his application of social law and order can surpass the humanity of the new approach to mental illness.

Perfection, of course, is nowhere in sight but conditions from now on will be rapidly improved. We have, in fact, only begun to realize what tremendous things can be done in the field of mental treatment. A hundred years from now, today's practices will seem as outmoded as high-button shoes but the door to this advancement has been opened during the present generation.

It has been opened by people like Dr. Spradling, Dr. R. W. Gray who will succeed him and by others like them and the rest of the personnel at the Lincoln hospital, these are people who serve with dedication because theirs is a cause in which they have unending faith and from which they derive tremendous personal satisfaction. There are untold numbers of them who daily give many times more than would ever be demanded or even expected of them. They will never get rich because salaries in their profession are amazingly low. They are amazing because it is difficult to understand how they permit people to engage in the work.

Particularly is this true at the level of ward attendants. And oddly enough it is here, where the patient finds a vast and constant need, that the intensity of determination to succeed is perhaps the greatest. All of this and more make up the great human drama in which Dr. Spradling has played such an important part.

Service Beyond Compensation

"Those Guys Have Funny Ideas About Americanism—They Hit You From The Front"

DREW PEARSON

And That's Where Our Money Goes!

WASHINGTON — When a South Carolina states-righter who preaches economy goes to bat for a Yankee shipyard for the purpose of costing the taxpayers extra money, the taxpayers need to know about it.

In this case, Vice Adm. John "Dutch" Will, who has just retired from the Military Sea Transportation Service to become head of American Export Lines which benefited from MSTs, is involved.

Even more involved is Congressman Mendel Rivers, whose heavy drinking while on congressional junkets abroad has shocked both Americans and Europeans.

The Power Equipment Corporation, chiefly owned by Joe Kelly of Connecticut, made a low bid of $142,860 to repair the USS Randall, which is operated by Adm. Will's Military Sea Transportation fleet. The ship was delivered to the Power Equipment Corporation in Brooklyn for overhaul on March 3. On March 6, three days later, Company Owner Kelly was clamoring for more money to take care of "extra work."

G. D. Cross, Brooklyn port engineer for the Military Sea Transportation Service, ruled that the "extras" would have to be rebid. Kelly promptly started applying pressure. He asked a friend in the Pentagon, James P. Goode, to arrange an appointment with Adm. Will. Simultaneously, Kelly was pulling more potent strings.

The Military Sea Transportation Service must answer to the House Merchant Marine Committee and the House Armed Services Committee. High on the list of both committees is Congressman Rivers of South Carolina. Through an intermediary, Kelly arranged for Rivers to call Adm. Will.

Kelly got in to see the admiral at 9:30 a.m. on March 10. While Kelly was still seated across from his desk, Will called his commander in Brooklyn, Rear Adm. D. T. Eller, and ordered him to negotiate with Kelly.

As a result, Power Equipment was paid an extra $104,394 for extra work. This was about two-thirds more than the original low bid of $142,860.

However, Kelly and his Power Equipment company still weren't satisfied. He came back on April 25 with a demand for another $129,000. He had little to back up the claim, chiefly cited vague generalities.

MSTs officers asked for a detailed breakdown. Finally, on May 15, Kelly brought back a revised claim for $166,581.19. This still didn't satisfy the MSTs. Its people below Adm. Will were careful about the taxpayers' money. So, on June 9, Kelly upped his demand still higher — to $173,150.61.

Stories Of Famous Hymns

I Need Thee Every Hour

I need Thee every hour,
Most gracious Lord;
No tender voice like Thine
Can peace afford.

I need Thee every hour,
Stay Thou near by;
Temptations lose their power
When Thou art nigh.

I need Thee every hour,
In joy or pain;
Come quickly and abide,
Or life is vain.

I need Thee every hour,
Teach me Thy will;
And Thy rich promises
In me fulfill.

I need Thee every hour,
Most Holy One;
O make me Thine indeed,
Thou blessed Son!

By HORACE B. POWELL

When the Rev. Robert Lowry, Baptist minister and composer, was serving one of his first pastorates in Brooklyn, N.Y., he discovered that one of his parishioners, Mrs. Annie Sherwood Hawks, had unusual poetic ability. He helped her with her writings and encouraged her to use her talents for the church.

Years later, in a distant city where he was preaching and teaching, Mr. Lowry was delighted one day to receive in manuscript form from Mrs. Hawks the verses of "I Need Thee Every Hour". She had sent them in the hope that her former minister would set them to music. Of course, he did so and when the poem and tune were introduced to the public they became universally popular.

The new hymn was sung for the first time at a national Sunday School convention held in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1872. Not long afterward it was published and given general circulation.

Gromyko Insult

Muskogee, Okla.

Not long ago some people criticized Sherman Adams, Clare Booth Luce, and Adm. Strauss. I do not pretend to know how much of the criticism was justified and how much of it was political, but I do know that the critics were severely castigated by many editors, columnists, members of Congress and even by the President.

I often wondered how many of these rebukes of the critics were from indignation and how many were political. I now know. Anyone who will not resent an insult to our secretary of state by a foreign atheist who has no moral scruples would not resent an insult to a fellow politician except for political reasons.

After Secretary Herter reported to the nation on the Geneva Conference, Gromyko stated very bluntly that Herter had lied and that the whole report was a lie. This brazen and unjustifiable insult to Herter and to the United States was published all over the world by our own news media, with no denials or expressed resentment attached.

Where are all the indignant editors, columnists and politicians who were so perturbed when one politician criticized another? I have not heard of a single one of them expressing any resentment at this insult from Gromyko. The President not only did not express any resentment but he also took Mr. Herter with him to New York to give another Russian the red-carpet treatment.

Why can't some official rear up on his hind legs and tell Gromyko in particular and all the Russians in general some of the things they need to be told? Have we become so enamored with the Communists that when one of them gives us a kick in the pants, we feel duty bound to immediately brush the dust off his shoes?

ERNEST C. ARNOLD

No Victory

Lincoln, Neb.

I agree with Mr. J. Richard Vincent that for the sake of American freedom we must express our individual views on the Omaha Action project. But I agree with him no further.

It seems perfectly clear, especially in the light of recent congressional hearings, that modern armed conflict is obsolete — that is, that there is no longer any such thing as a victory in war for either side. If this be so, why do we continue to expend more and more of our resources in preparation for such an undesirable objective? Have we explored all the alternatives thoroughly?

These pacifists raise important and serious questions. They should be opposed on grounds of reason rather than emotion. Were it not for people imaginative enough to ask questions and people brave enough to attempt reasonable answers, society would never progress.

Fools Rush In

If you have a hankering to know what it's like to put your head on the chopping block, just get into the art squabble now making the rounds in Washington. It sounds like the days of Harry Truman and the peppery ex-President has been dragged into the dispute, through no current fault of his own. But President Eisenhower, who is generally not found in these Truman corners, is also in the middle of this one.

Having spoken uncomplimentarily about certain of the paintings to be exhibited in Moscow, the President in turn has his own artistic ability seriously questioned. Some people, said the woman curator of the American exhibit, think his paintings aren't so good, either. She then took a slap at Truman who one time said that modern painters are ham-and-eggheads. Naturally, anyone with good sense would stay out of this argument but newspaper people are often credited with having none.

It would seem as though the President—Eisenhower, that is—has a good point in this matter. He hasn't said the art isn't any good but he has indicated he personally doesn't like it and feels it does not represent the likes of most Americans. This brings the discussion down to the question of what should be the determining factor in selection of paintings for the exhibit.

Should selection be made on the expert opinion of the artists themselves or on the likes and dislikes of the average American? This, in turn, should hinge on whether the exhibit is supposed to represent the finest in American modern art or the American people and their culture. Perhaps there are some who maintain it can and does do both but this gets us right back to the original problem.

One would be foolish to arbitrarily condemn all modern art. Like most other things, some of it is very fine and some of it very bad. If there is to be criticism of the medium, it might be directed toward the artists themselves who seem to have no tolerance whatsoever of those who either fail to understand or like their work.

Serious Accusation

The Dodge County board of supervisors has made a serious charge against the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute at Omaha—a charge, it is hoped, which is free of any political implications. Because of two serious acts, one a violent beating which resulted in the death of a patient at the hands of another, NPI has been accused of lacking proper supervisory personnel.

The Dodge County officials have asked that the matter be investigated. It has been called by the officials to the attention of the Board of Control, the governor and State Sen. Terry Carpenter. There can be no criticism of the Dodge County board if it is sincerely seeking a study of what it feels are shortcomings within the operation of the institute.

The thing which might cause one to doubt the sincerity of the move, however, is the fact that both incidents have been very logically explained by the head of the institute, Dr. Cecil Wittson. The explanation and the circumstances of both incidents appear to leave little room for further examination. One incident happened so fast nothing could have prevented it, and the other was something which might happen anytime and a matter of patient behavior which could hardly be under complete control of the institution. The latter case was not even known by institute officials until some time after it happened.

Those requested to investigate this matter, however, have no choice but to take the request at its face value and make an honest determination of the facts. It should be done with haste and without any side political considerations. The institute has been an outstanding organization and has performed a most worthwhile service. Time makes this service only that much more needed. And Dr. Wittson has contributed immeasurably to the entire mental health program in the state—a program which has won Nebraska nationwide prominence.

Words, Words, Words

(from The Washington Post)

The Nixon Committee's interim report on how to promote "price stability for economic growth" (how deceptively that "for" bridges the chasm) is certainly one of the most redundant, uninspired and generally useless documents lately to come off the government's mimeographing machines.

As the President and the cabinet committee both note, the three interim recommendations of the committee have already been made to congress. Two of them, moreover, are already well established (if necessarily ill-defined) policy with both this administration and this Congress; the intention by "all appropriate means" to protect the buying power of the dollar, and, the provision of a balanced budget for the coming fiscal year. The Nixon Committee adds no definition to either policy. We know of not a single important dissenting voice, in Congress or in the executive branch, on either of these matters. As for the third proposal, to remove the interest ceiling on government bonds, this would hardly be a "cure" for inflation but merely an acknowledgment of present financial realities which, without other far-ranging moves in the field of taxation and debt management, would do little either for stability or for growth.

The cabinet committee's restatement of the obvious—and of the more or less meaningless—is carried so very far in some phrases as to suggest a lack of serious purpose or of careful editing. For example, the report says, "Excessive authorizations, by making deficits or higher taxes likely in the future, could create permanent inflationary forces." What, in heaven's name, would necessarily be inflationary about a bigger budget balanced with higher taxes?

We are glad to know that the Nixon Committee believes taxes, the farm price support program, the export trade and labor and business monopoly all need further "studying." If this may be translated to mean that the cabinet committee knows that the problem of growth and of stability can be solved only by the making of some hard decisions in these and other areas, the country may perhaps take encouragement. But this particular cabinet committee has precious little time left for its studies.

Kozlov Parrots Same Old Line

WASHINGTON—Frol Kozlov, the big Russian with the boom-boom voice, has come and gone at the White House and has left no messages of cheer.

It had been thought that the high-ranking member of the Soviet government, who was sent over to open officially his nation's fair in New York, might also be bearing some word of hope which would relieve the deadlock in the Geneva negotiations. Such was not the case.

President Eisenhower, who had openly enjoyed his tour of the Soviet exhibits in New York escorted by the ebullient Kozlov, spent 80 minutes talking to the Soviet emissary at the White House. Any hopefulness promptly vanished when Kozlov merely repeated the line taken at Geneva by Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. Obviously, he came with no warrant to make a deal or even hint at one.

Only a little earlier, W. Averell Harriman, former ambassador to Russia, had been interviewing Prime Minister Khrushchev in the Kremlin. Harriman is in the guise of a journalist and has no official standing whatsoever. But as America's wartime ambassador to the Soviet Union, he had a unique opportunity to understand the Russians. Reports have been leaked here by State Department officials that Khrushchev, in his talks with Harriman, took a hard and even frightening line.

It is notable that Harriman, who is writing almost daily reports for the American press on his visit, has not written a word about his talks with the Soviet premier. He went on his journey with determination to be a good guest. The Soviet leaders could take no exception whatever to the warm and sympathetic reports he has been writing about their country. Whatever reports he has made on his treatment by Khrushchev he has limited to the ears of United States diplomats in Moscow.

The Soviet Union owes a debt to Harriman which it is paying off by giving him exceptional freedom to visit places normally barred to Westerners. It owes nothing to Vice President Nixon who leaves shortly to open the United States exhibit in Moscow. On the record he will be treated cordially, as Kozlov is being treated here, and told nothing of significance as far as a settlement of the Berlin crisis is concerned.

Having passed up the opportunities for a private exchange of views, which were implicit in the visits of Kozlov to Washington and Harriman to Moscow, it is unlikely now that the word, good or bad, is being saved for the ears of Vice President Nixon and the President's brother Milton who will accompany him.

Whatever it is that Khrushchev wants to say, it is apparent that he wants to say it to President Eisenhower himself, and that he intends to delegate that job to no one else.

Men Demanding Equal Style Rights

NEW YORK — The men's clothing industry is thoroughly miffed at this column for suggesting that men are being humbled in the humidity, and hobbled in the heat, by the idiotic fashion tradition that insists of ties, jackets and ankle-length creases in the summer.

It has been brought to our attention by male readers that mere typewriter talk about the stupidity of men's summer fashions cannot change the pattern. Most restaurants and offices are so steeped in conformity that they will not allow men to enter in walking shorts, or with open-necked shirts, or sans jackets—no matter how neat and crisp they appear.

Their attitude: Better a soggy suited man, than a fresh one with nude knees.

The custom of many of our better restaurants, clubs and hotels, is to eye the coolly-dressed man with distaste—but to demand his business anyway.

When a potential customer dares to show up without a tie or jacket, he is offered one from the check-room storage department. This gesture of seeming generosity — which actually is an implication that the gentleman is not dressed in good taste—either frightens or disgusts the man.

The really offensive part of it, to many men, is that they are forced to dress to the chin in offices and restaurants where women are garbed only from the knee cap to the censor's limit. They wear no sleeves, no stockings, no hat and only enough shoe to keep their heels off the pavement.

"Tell me, madame," inquires a curious one, "Why I am unfit with three inches of throat exposed, when my date is appropriately dressed sans sleeves, sans hose, sans almost everything."

The basic unfairness of women's attire versus men's is a matter that no one, surely would contest. We would like to suggest that some reasonable attitude be established by restaurateurs—a little give and take, a little purely businesslike bargaining on this matter. Either give a man a break or demand equal etiquette from women... by offering them the loan of "respectability items" as they enter a restaurant: stockings, white gloves, dickies for the shocking décolleté. What's bad for the gander is bad for the goose.

This is every bit as reasonable as suggesting that a wealthy divorcee should pay her discarded husband alimony.

And I am sure, will get every bit as much acceptance.

Married at Summer Ceremonies

MRS. CHARLES J. APLIN, JR.

In the presence of 200 guests, the marriage of Miss Nancy Ackerman, daughter of Mrs. Edwin Bernard Ackerman of Fairbury, and the late Dr. Ackerman, to Dr. Charles J. Aplin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Aplin of Solomon, Kan., was solemnized on Saturday, June 20. The 10 o'clock service was read by the Rev. Gilbert Landall at the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Solomon.

Frocked in pink Chantilly lace and chiffon with a brow veil in matching pink illusion was Mrs. Arthur C. Hergott of Fairbury, the matron of honor, who carried a nosegay of pink carnations. Miss Diane Aplin of Solomon, sister of the bridegroom, was the junior bridesmaid and wore pink organza. Her bouquet was fashioned of pink rosebuds.

Dr. A. J. Aplin of Solomon served his nephew as best man, and seating the guests were Donald Johnson, Salina, Kan.; Toby Johnson, Colwich, Kan.; Robert Meagher, Solomon; Robert Higgins and Loren Samuelson, Abilene, Kan.

Given in marriage by her brother, Dr. Bruce Ackerman of Fairbury, the bride appeared in a gown of white embroidered organza over blush pink taffeta. A heart-shaped neckline and brief sleeves accented the snug bodice which was banded in velvet in the Empire mode, and the wide skirt extended into a brush train. Her circular veil of silk illusion was held by a pillbox cap of the organza, and she carried a crescent arrangement of pink sweetheart roses and valley-lilies.

Following a reception at the Sunflower Hotel, Abilene, Kan., the couple left for San Juan, Puerto Rico, where Dr. Aplin, a graduate of Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kan., and of Southern College of Optometry, Memphis, Tenn., is serving as a lieutenant at the Rodriguez Army Hospital at Fort Brooke. He is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. Mrs. Aplin is a graduate of Monticello College, Alton, Ill.

ADAMS-PETERSON

At a candlelight service solemnized Sunday evening, June 23, Miss Anne Louise Adams, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Q. Adams of Geneva, became the bride of Curtis John Peterson, son of Mrs. Marie Peterson of Genoa. All-white gladioli formed the background in the First Methodist Church at Geneva for the ceremony, which was read by Dr. Alden B. Sears.

Wearing alike frocks of pale blue silk taffeta and lace and carrying white and blue-tinted daisies were Miss Janet Johnson of Cambridge, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Julia Cooper, Palmyra, Mrs. Ted Fausnaugh, Columbus, O., and Mrs. John Adams Jr., Omaha. Miss Jayne Adams of Omaha was the flower girl, and lighting the candles were Miss Carolyn Hayman of Shelton, and Mrs.

Gary Bruening of Lincoln. Merle Peterson of Genoa served as best man, and the ushers were Donald Cromwell, Genoa; Clyde Johnson, Kansas City, Mo.; and John Adams, Omaha. Mark Fausnaugh, Columbus, O., was the ringbearer.

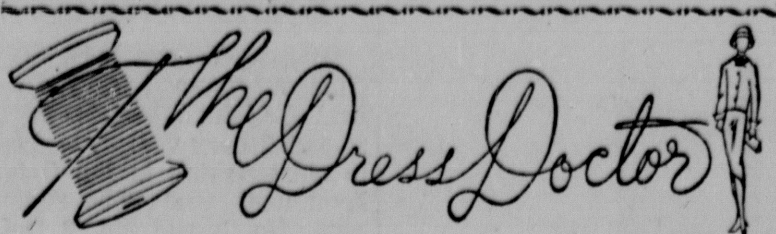

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of white tulle over taffeta trimmed with Chantilly lace. The lace, embroidered with tiny pearls and sequins, formed the shoulder-wide neckline and brief sleeves, which were completed by long mitts of the tulle and lace, and the lace-banded skirt was caught into fullness and ended in a whisper train. A pearl coronet held her veil of illusion, and she carried a cascade of white and blue-tinted carnations and stephanotis.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson will reside at Genoa. A graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University, the bride is a member of Phi Mu sorority. Mr. Peterson is a graduate of the Lincoln School of Commerce.

Career Women

Miss Ione Rischling, newly-elected president, presided at the meeting of the Lincoln Chapter of Career Women on Wednesday evening following a dinner at Coatney's Restaurant.

During the meeting, a report was made by the members who attended the meeting of the Omaha Career Women last week.

"A Place in the Sun" was another of my favorite pictures.

Elizabeth Taylor was seventeen at the time — one of the prettiest human beings I've ever seen; gay, enthusiastic and excited about clothes — and let's have no mistake about it, it's fun to dress someone who gets excited. Here we had a perfect setup: one of my favorite producer-directors, George Stevens, and a beautiful star with a flawless young figure playing a girl of wealth.

The clothes were widely copied. One evening gown had countless yards of white tulle studded with countless white velvet violets. One of my young friends reported a party she attended at the time of the picture's release; in attendance were seven teen "Elizabeth Taylors" decked in white violets.

Another popular dress was a young ball gown of black velvet, topped in eyelet embroidery and studded with seed pearls. I'll always remember Elizabeth saying: "You can make the waist a little smaller."

"I've already made it a little smaller."

"You can make it even a little smaller."

She had a nineteen-inch waist at the time and she was always trying to get us to make the waists just a little smaller.

She was a friendly, uninhibited girl with none of the tricks or traits of the usual child actress who knows she's important and finds a way to let you know. Elizabeth wasn't a bit actressish, and she still trotted about the set with her school teacher.

The teacher came with her to fittings too. I suggested that a couple of fittings might count as schooltime, if we spoke in French and Spanish; but the teacher didn't think that quite legal.

Former Coeds Were June Brides

MRS. WALTER R. AKESON

Blue-tinted daisies and white carnations appointed the altar of the First Methodist Church at Arlington on Sunday, June 14, for the wedding of Miss Yvonne Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curt Cook of Arlington, and Walter R. Akeson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy P. Akeson of Chappell. The Rev. Henry Kleinert, chaplain at Midland College, Fremont, read the lines of the double ring service.

Miss Mary Guidinger of Polk, as the maid of honor, and the bridesmatron, Mrs. Tom Hunton of Denver, wore frocks of blue silk in the daytime length and carried arm baskets filled with blue daisies. Miss Valerie Vavak of Mead, and Miss Marjorie Tohlman of Silver Creek, lighted the chancel candles.

Serving as best man was Berton Akeson of Chappell, and the ushers were Don Kasbohm, Dunbar; Hulbert Reichelt, Ft. Collins, Colo.; and Leslie Cook, Arlington.

The bride appeared in a gown of pale blue Chantilly lace over peau de soie. Seed pearls edged the Queen Anne collar and accentuated the period lines of the long-sleeved bodice of lace, and the wide skirt of lace and silk was banded by cording of the pearls. Her pearl Juliet cap was veiled with illusion, and she carried a white Bible showered with white roses.

The couple will reside at Chappell. A former student at Del Mar College, Corpus Christi, Tex., and the University of Nebraska, the bride is a member of Kappa Phi. Mr. Akeson graduated with distinction from the University of Nebraska earlier this month and is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity, Alpha Zeta, Gamma Sigma Delta and Sigma Xi honoraries.

FOWLER-HANSEN

Miss Nancy Anne Fowler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Fowler of Gering, became the bride of Ensign Lyle Frank Hansen, USN, son of Mrs. L. F. Hansen of Brattleboro, Vt., formerly of Aberdeen, S.D., and the late Mr. Hansen, at an evening ceremony solemnized on Tuesday, June 9. White roses and gladioli appointed the candlelight chancel of the First Methodist Church at Gering for the service, which was read by Dr. Henry Beatty.

Wearing ballerina frocks of white organza over pink peau de soie were Mrs. Don Bilbreath of Sidney, the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Nancy Herse, Laurel; Miss Polly Moller, Wakefield; Miss Judie Morris, Benkelman; and Miss Sherry Schuett, Cairo. Pink brow veils and bouquets of white roses, stephanotis and pearl strands completed their costumes. Miss Lynn Dee Lewis and Miss Susan Carter, Gering, were the flower girls, and Miss Patty Hansen of Brattleboro, sister of the bridegroom, lighted the candles.

Robert L. Hansen of Brattleboro served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Larry Fowler, Gering, brother of the bride; John Williams, Beatrice; Paul Moessner, Omaha; and Kenneth Wagner, Aberdeen, S.D.

The bride's period gown was fashioned of white Chantilly lace and tissue taffeta. Delicate scallops of the lace edged the squared neckline of the long-sleeved bodice, and deep tiers of the lace formed the wide skirt which was accented at the back by a bustle bow of taffeta above the chapel train. Her illusion veil was held by a pillbox cap of jeweled lace, and she carried an arrangement of white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Ensign and Mrs. Hansen will reside at Long Beach, Calif., where the bridegroom a June graduate of the University of Nebraska, is stationed with the Navy. Mrs. Hansen attended the university, where she is a member of Sigma Kappa, and will complete her studies at Long Beach State College.

Dear Abby . . .

Face Them, Honey!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think this is too silly to answer. When my door bell rings and I see it is a salesman I don't answer the door because I know how persuasive they can be. When he's gone my conscience bothers me and I wished I had answered the door. Then when I think of how fast they can talk you into buying something, I am glad I didn't. Then later on I think maybe I should have. This stays on my mind all day. How can I get rid of my guilty conscience?

HOUSEWIFE

DEAR HOUSEWIFE: First, be honest with yourself. You are dealing with more than a "guilty conscience." You are upset with yourself because you haven't the nerve to face a salesman for fear he might talk you into buying something you can't afford or don't need. Grow up. Gather your courage and answer the door. Hear him out and then make an adult decision.

DEAR ABBY: All my life I've been bothered because I was too beautiful. At 16 people would stop me on the street and ask me "what show I was playing in." My girl friends were afraid to introduce me to their boyfriends. I quit one job after another because all my bosses made passes at me. Now that I am married it's no different. My husband's friends give me the eye and their wives don't want me around because they can't stand the competition. I wish I were as homely as a mud fence. What's the answer, Abby?

"TOO BEAUTIFUL"

DEAR TOO: Don't kid yourself. Nobody makes passes at a statue no matter how good looking it is. Perhaps you aren't consciously inviting these advances but any woman who has to beat off every man she meets ought to take a long critical look at herself.

DEAR ABBY: I have a wonderful husband and four wonderful children. I have a beautiful home and everything a wife could ask for. My husband is almost perfect but he has one bad habit. Every other word he says is a curse word. No matter who is present. Children, adults, his parents or mine. It must be a habit but, Abby, how do you break a man of a habit like that? I would give anything if I could do it. The children are beginning to pick it up.

MRS. A. E. B.

DEAR MRS. A. E. B.: The longest march in the world starts with one step. Warn him that you are going to call his attention to every "curse word" he says as soon as he says it. And then do just that. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I am a decent wife and mother but my sister's husband makes passes at me like I was a stray dog or something. I have told him to cut it out, but I never made a scene because I want to keep down trouble. Must I tell my sister or my husband or should I crack his head open for him?

A LADY

DEAR LADY: If your brother-in-law insists on ignoring your warnings — tell your husband.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Pittsburgh Loses 6-0 To 2-Hitter

Pittsburgh (P) — Southpaw Juan Pizarro pitched a two-hitter for the Milwaukee Braves here Friday night as they shut out the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-0. Eddie Mathews, Hank Aaron and Joe Adcock homered for the Braves.

A crowd of 34,093, largest of the season at Forbes Field, saw Pizarro strike out 11 and walk only two as he went the distance, giving up only two singles, both to Bob Skinner. Pizarro's record now is 2-1.

The only time he appeared close to being in trouble was in the second, when Skinner singled and stole second with only one out. Pizarro then fanned Bill Mazeroski and Don Hoak in succession to retire the side. In the Pirates half of the 6th, Pizarro retired the side in order on strikeouts.

The Braves took a 1-0 lead in the 6th on Mathews' 25th homer of the year into the upper deck of the right field stands.

They got their other 5 runs in the 8th after the first two batters had been retired. Mathews singled and scored on Aaron's home run over the left field wall, his 22nd.

Wes Covington then singled and scored on a tremendous 440-foot homer by Adcock that left the ballpark just to the left of the light tower in centerfield. It was Adcock's 7th of the year.

George Witt, who had arm trouble early this season, started on the mound for the Pirates, pitched 8 innings and was charged with the loss, his 6th compared to no victories. Witt had given up only 4 hits until the Braves' clobbered him with their 4-run outburst in the 8th.

Bob Porterfield came on in relief, and the Braves got another run when Don Hoak missed Johnny O'Brien's grounder, Pizarro sacrificed and Bill Bruton and Mathews singled.

Lumberin' Ol' Ez Flaits Opponent

Cincinnati (P) — Ezzard Charles, former heavyweight champion of the world, lumbered and flailed his way to a technical knockout in the 7th round Friday night over Dave Ashley, a policeman in nearby Lockland.

Ashley, weighing 261 pounds and very fat around the stomach, ran out of gas after the second round and was an easy target for Charles the rest of the way.

Charles, who weighed 204, showed little of the foot-speed and punching ability which carried him to the heavyweight title in 1950. He was flat-footed most of the way and fought cautiously until he had the lumbering Ashley so tired that he could barely hold up his glove.

CHIEFS END LOSSES

Topeka Falls In Rain; Holiday Show Tonight

By Don Bryant

Lincoln's somewhat shell-shocked Chiefs, feeling as much at home in the rain as a crumple in a tea house, snapped a 6-game losing streak at Sherman Field Friday night by beating Topeka, 5-2.

On tap at the Sherman Field plant tonight is a super Fourth of July fireworks display. The buzz bombs and rockets will follow the baseball portion of the show—the Chiefs versus the Reds with the game starting at 8 p.m.

Phil Groth, former Iowa State southpaw, is slated for pitching duty.

Friday night Bryant Waddell and Don Gordon teamed to beat the rain and the Reds. Waddell delivered a 6-hitter and Gordon popped a 3-run homer in the 4th inning to supply the necessary margin to snap the slump.

Lincoln came to bat in the 4th trailing 1-0 and a light sprinkle commenced after the first two Chiefs were down. Deke Jones then singled for the first local hit off Topeka's Ken Mallory and Pug Williamson followed suit.

Gordon made it 3-1 with his first homer of the year, a line drive over the right field fence.

The rain continued, in varying degrees of concentration, throughout the game as the Chiefs battled to stay on top and the Reds attempted to over take them.

Bob Jarvis' sacrifice fly pulled the Reds up 2-3 in the 7th, but Lincoln plated a pair in the home half of the frame on walk, two infield hits, an error and Mike Hersberger's sacrifice fly.

Smoke Signals. . . George Hametz of Lincoln umpired the bases, subbing for Three-I League regular Ralph Bernadino who is out of action with a broken toe. . . Hametz had one rhabarb—that with the Chiefs for calling a Red safe at third on a bunt-fence play in the 7th. . . Lincoln obtained a new pitcher Friday—Ed Szyzycwski, 22, a 5-10, 170-pound righthander who came down from Charleston of the Sally League. He is nursing a sore arm and may be of little use for a few days.

Last year he was with Colorado Springs, posting a 10-10 record. . . Waddell walked 4 and fanned 3 in picking up his second win. . . Lincoln recorded a pair of double plays to help Waddell. . . Mallory hit two Chiefs—Catcher Gene Martin immediately following Gordon's homer. . . Attendance was 381. . . General manager Roger Bottorff has a full slate of promotions lined up in July—the month that will determine Lincoln's baseball future.

Lincoln Man Big Winner At Speedway

Steady drizzles from overhead during the final half of the program failed to dampen the spirits of near 2,000 spectators at the Lincoln Speedway, Capitol Beach, Friday night as a Lincolnite walked off with a lion's share of top honors.

The master of the dirt track was Marv Sohl, an insurance company executive who brought his souped-up 1932 model Ford coupe in first under the flag in 3 races.

He won his heat dash, the trophy dash and the 35-lap main feature. Carl Patchen, 40-year-old Columbusite, topped the speed dash.

Free fireworks displays are in the offing tonight at the Speedway.

Other winners Friday night: First heat—Jim Tipton, Lincoln. Third heat—Wendell Cummings, Hastings. R Feature—John Mangaman, Lincoln. D Feature—John Mangaman, Lincoln.

Maxie Wins 11th For Cedar Rapids

Cedar Rapids, Iowa (P) — Larry Maxie checked Des Moines on 5 hits as Cedar Rapids took the first game of a showdown series, 3-1, in the Three-I League Friday night.

A crowd of 2,845 saw Maxie post his 11th victory against 4 losses. He stranded 10 Demons baserunners.

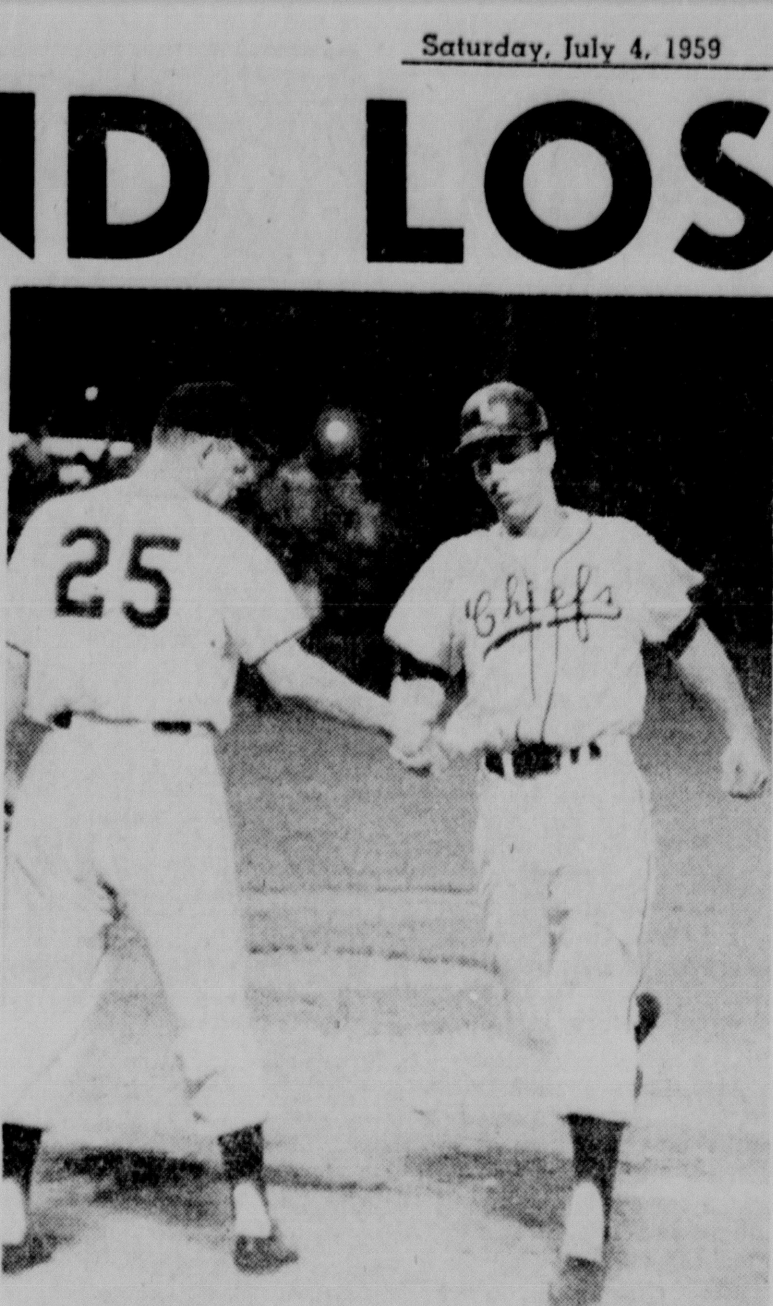

Des Moines remained a game out of the league lead as leader Green Bay lost, 5-1, to Appleton. The first-half of the split-season ends Sunday.

Antonelli's 12th Victory 4-0 Shutout Over Chicago

Chicago (P) — Johnny Antonelli of the lead-nudging San Francisco Giants breezed to his 12th victory Friday with a 5-hit 4-0 whitewashing of the Chicago Cubs.

The stylish southpaw, who has 4 losses, defeated the Cubs for the 3rd time in as many starts this season in pitching his second shutout of the campaign.

Wall Pacing Flint Open By 1 Stroke

Flint, Mich. (P) —Methodical Art Wall Jr., hammered 5 strokes off par with a blazing putter here Friday and seized a one-stroke lead at the half-way mark of the $52,000 Flint Open golf tournament.

The slender Masters champion, who has made more money this year than any of his fellow pros, equalled the course record with a sizzling 67 and nosed out PGA titlist Dow Finsterwald for the second round lead. Wall's 133 bettered par by 6 strokes.

Wall curled in 5 long putts and came to the front as the early leaders faltered on the sun-baked Warwick Hills layout at nearby Grand Blanc.

Finsterwald tacked a 68 to his opening round 71 and had second place all to himself.

Defending champion Bill Casper Jr., Ted Kroll and Lionel Hebert deadlocked for 3rd at 140. Jay Hebert, who shared the first round lead with brother Lionel and Monte Bradley, tied with Pete Cooper at 141. Bradley nosedived 10 strokes from his first-round performance and was 8 strokes off the pace.

Lincolnite Loses In Hawkeye Meet

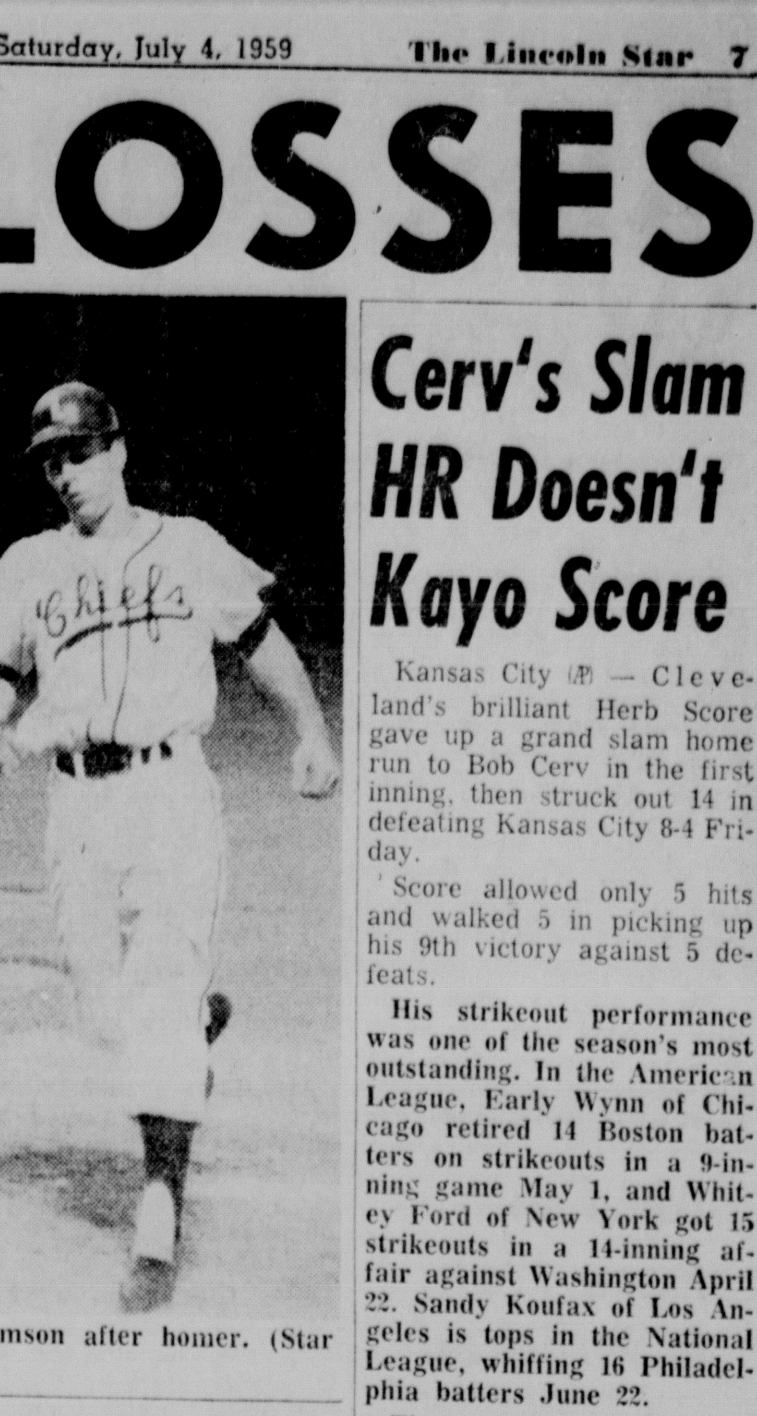

Des Moines, Ia. (P) — Steve Wilkinson, seeded No. 2 in the junior boys division, moved into the division semifinals of the Hawkeye Open tennis tourney here Friday night with a 6-2, 6-0 victory over Dave Wohlfarth of Lincoln, Neb.

Iowa City's Dave Strauss rallied to down Tuck Vosburg of Omaha, Neb. 1-6, 6-4 and 6-4 in the other semifinal bracket.

Vosburg and Bob Boyson, Cedar Rapids Iowa high school champion, moved into the quarterfinals of the junior doubles as No. 1 seeded team, Bruce Vosburg of Omaha and Doug Marteeny lost to Wilkinson and Bob Sprengelmeyer of Dubuque in the second round of doubles.

Cerv's Slam HR Doesn't Kayo Score

Kansas City (P) — Cleveland's brilliant Herb Score gave up a grand slam home run to Bob Cerv in the first inning, then struck out 14 in defeating Kansas City 8-4 Friday.

Score allowed only 5 hits and walked 5 in picking up his 9th victory against 5 defeats.

His strikeout performance was one of the season's most outstanding. In the American League, Early Wynn of Chicago retired 14 Boston batters on strikeouts in a 9-inning game May 1, and Whitney Ford of New York got 15 strikeouts in a 14-inning affair against Washington April 22. Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles is tops in the National League, whiffing 16 Philadelphia batters June 22.

Three of Score's bases on balls were in the 1st inning. Two of them helped set the stage for Cerv's grand slammer, with Ray Boone's bouncing hit into the hole loading the sacks.

After Cerv's homer—his 9th, a liner over the center field fence—score retired Harry Chiti on a fly, walked Hal Smith, and then got the first of his strikeouts, on Joe De Maestri, to retire the side.

Chisox Win On Smith's Homer

Detroit (P) —Al Smith clouted a towering home run in the top of the 10th inning and gave the Chicago White Sox a 6-5 victory over the Detroit Tigers Friday.

Smith, who belted a grand slam homer in a losing cause Thursday night, hit a 3 and 2 pitch high into the upper left field seats. His victim was reliever Tom Morgan, who suffered his second defeat. The White Sox battled into the lead 3 times before they were able to win.

Red Wilson's home run in the bottom of the 9th sent the game into extra innings. The Tigers then threatened to win before reliever Turk Lown put out the fire with the potential winning run on second base.

Lown, Chicago's 3rd pitcher, got the Tigers out in the 10th and received credit for his 4th triumph.

Chicago starter Early Wynn was sailing along with a one-hitter until the 6th and seemingly had his 261st major league victory stowed away. Wilson had touched him for the only hit—a run-producing single after two walks in the first.

Alex Adds Wimbledon

Olmedo Top Target For Promoters

Wimbledon, England (P) — Peruvian Alex Olmedo added the famed Wimbledon Championship to his growing list of tennis honors Friday and became a $100,000 target of professional promoters.

The copper-skinned stylist from the land of the Incas, star of the United States' 1958 Davis Cup victory, crushed Australia's Rod Laver in a fast-paced 72-minute final 6-4, 6-3, 6-4.

Then, after receiving the silver trophy from the hands of the Duchess of Kent, the 23-year-old son of an Arequipa court caretaker ducked questions about his professional plans.

"I am thinking now only of playing for the U.S. Davis Cup team," he said. "I would like to come back to Wimbledon next year."

However, promoter Jack Kramer, who has signed the last 3 Wimbledon winners to lucrative contracts, already has announced he is ready to offer Olmedo $100,000 if he can add the U.S. title and lead American Davis Cuppers to another victory in late summer.

Also, there are unconfirmed reports of another offer, possibly as much as $150,000, from a group wishing to sponsor a new tour featuring Olmedo and women's star Althea Gibson.

Miss Gibson, on a year's leave from competition, is here as a spectator and writer. Today Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., and 19-year-old Maria Bueno of Brazil play for the championship Althea won the last two years and America has held since 1938.

Of the offer involving Miss Gibson, Olmedo said: "I know nothing about it."

In winning Wimbledon, the handsome young Peruvian establishes himself as the No. 1 amateur in the world. He now has won two of the 4 major championships — the Australian and Wimbledon — and can complete a "little slam" by capturing the U.S. crown at Forest Hills in September.

Studies at the University of Southern California, where he is a business administration major, prevented Olmedo from playing in the French tournament and thus trying for a 4-title sweep which has been accomplished by only one man—Don Budge in 1938.

A capacity crowd of 13,000, including the Duchess of Kent and Princess Margaret, saw the part-Indian completely dominate the final match with Laver, a tenacious unseeded player of 20.

Olmedo, dropping only two points in his first 3 service games, raced to a quick 5-1 lead in the opening set, relaxed momentarily and finally won the set with a display of serving power in the 10th game.

He lost his service only once, in the 8th game of the first set. He racked Laver's high-kicking delivery twice in the first set, twice in the second and once in the 3rd.

Madison Race Plant Is Polished

Lincoln Star Special

Madison — A newly refurbished plant will greet fans at Madison's annual race meet July 7th through 17th.

Paint and polish have been laid on with a will, according to E. J. Moyer of Madison, the meet's secretary.

In addition to the spruced up grounds, the northeast Nebraska plant will have a new weatherproofed track. Some 3300 loads of sand have been mixed with a 4 inch layer of topsoil to prevent gumbo conditions which haunted the meeting the last two years.

"The track will stand water now," Moyer said. Other improvements include a new ten stall starting gate and new ticket issuing machines.

Purses distributed during the meet will come to $50,000 as compared to $45,200 in 1958. Some 186 horses are now on the grounds with another 250 expected at the close of the Omaha Ak-Sar-Ben meet Saturday.

Officials at the Madison track will be the same this year as last Moyer said. Ralph Stubbs is secretary, Linus Pierce, paddock steward and Don Watkins, clerk of scales.

Ralph Boomer of Lincoln will represent the Nebraska State Racing Commission.

Cincinnati (P) — The game between Milwaukee and Cincinnati rained out Wednesday night will be played as a part of a two-nighter here Aug. 11.

Hemus, Walker Draw Suspensions Following Ruckus In Cards' Game

S. Louis (P) — Cards' manager Solly Hemus drew a 5-day suspension and a $250 fine and coach Harry Walker two days in drydock and a $100 fine Friday in the frothy wake of Thursday night's Los Angeles-St. Louis game.

Still pending is action of another sort—in a court of law—against a muscular fan who leaped from the stands and punched plate umpire Bill Jackowski moments after Hemus and Walker got the thumb.

The gingery Redbird skipper and his first base coach immediately asked for—and were granted—a meeting before National League President Warren Giles during the All-Star break in Pittsburgh Monday.

Hemus and Walker learned of their fines and suspensions in separate telegrams from National League headquarters in Cincinnati. The suspensions were effective Friday; the fines payable before July 9.

The wires signed by Giles alleged bodily contact with first base umpire Shag Crawford in the sizzling 7th inning of the game won by the Dodgers 4-0.

In addition, Hemus' telegram listed bad conduct and language and "repeated bodily contact"—a charge heatedly denied by the fiery, 5-foot-9 manager.

The lid blew off the game in the 7th when rookie Redbird outfielder Gene Oliver tipped a two-strike pitch—apparently into the mitt of Dodger catcher John Roseboro.

Jackowski, his vision obscured, signaled to Crawford to call the play. With no hesitation, Crawford ruled Rose-

Man-Made Halsey Forest Once A Barren Spot

BY BILL W. DEAN
Halsey, Neb. (AP) — The largest man-made forest in the world rises in one of the least likely places.
The 306,028 acre plantation was the brainchild of a botany professor who paid no attention to a chorus of:
"You can't make trees grow there!"
The 49ers used to write in their diaries about the lack of trees in Nebraska Territory. Wagon train parties complained because there was no wood for fires. Early settlers built houses of sod because there were no logs.
The most barren spot of all was the Sandhills, 20,000 square miles of north central Nebraska hill country. Some of the hills were smooth and rolling, some rough and choppy.
It was no use for settlers to plow there. The newly-furrowed soil would just blow away.
But this was the place Dr. Charles E. Bessey wanted to plant trees.
Old Indian Legend
The Indians had a legend that when ancient tribes crossed the land to hunt in the Rockies to the west, there was a forest of pine. When they came back it had been burned off.

Dr. Bessey, a University of Nebraska botany professor, found cedars and ponderosa pine along river valleys and outcroppings of sandstone in bluffs throughout the Sandhills.
By 1891 Dr. Bessey was able to wear down B. F. Fernow, chief of the U.S. Division of Forestry, with his arguments. Fernow sent some trees for an experimental planting on a northern Nebraska ranch. A prairie fire destroyed part of them, but the rest grew remarkably well.
With a showcase for his theory, Dr. Bessey stepped up his campaign and in 1902 a federal field party went out to take a look at the Sandhills.
There were still people who were not convinced, though. One of them, surprisingly enough, was the great conservation and forestry advocate, Gifford Pinchot.

In 1911 Pinchot, a chief forester, told University of Nebraska Geologist G. E. Condra that he was going to allow the Nebraska forest to revert to its original status.
"Do you expect to raise lumber there?" he demanded of Dr. Condra.
"We don't plan to grow lumber in Nebraska," Condra replied. "We want trees around our farm and ranch homes, posts to fence the grazing lands, firewood, windbreaks, cattle protection, the Sandhills held down."
Pinchot changed his mind. Big Cattle War
Still there were other difficulties. The cattle war raged through the Sandhills. There were lynchings in an effort to frighten homesteaders away. The cattlemen were voluble in their annoyance with the government for setting aside national forests.

But today, thanks to well-learned conservation practices — the Forest Service itself offered leadership in range management — the Nebraska Sandhills have become one of America's greatest ranges.
The National Forest is divided in two parts. The southern section, near Halsey, was originally named the Dismal River Division but later renamed in honor of Dr. Bessey. The Niobrara Division is just below the South Dakota state line.

Pacifists Will Try Again To Enter Mead

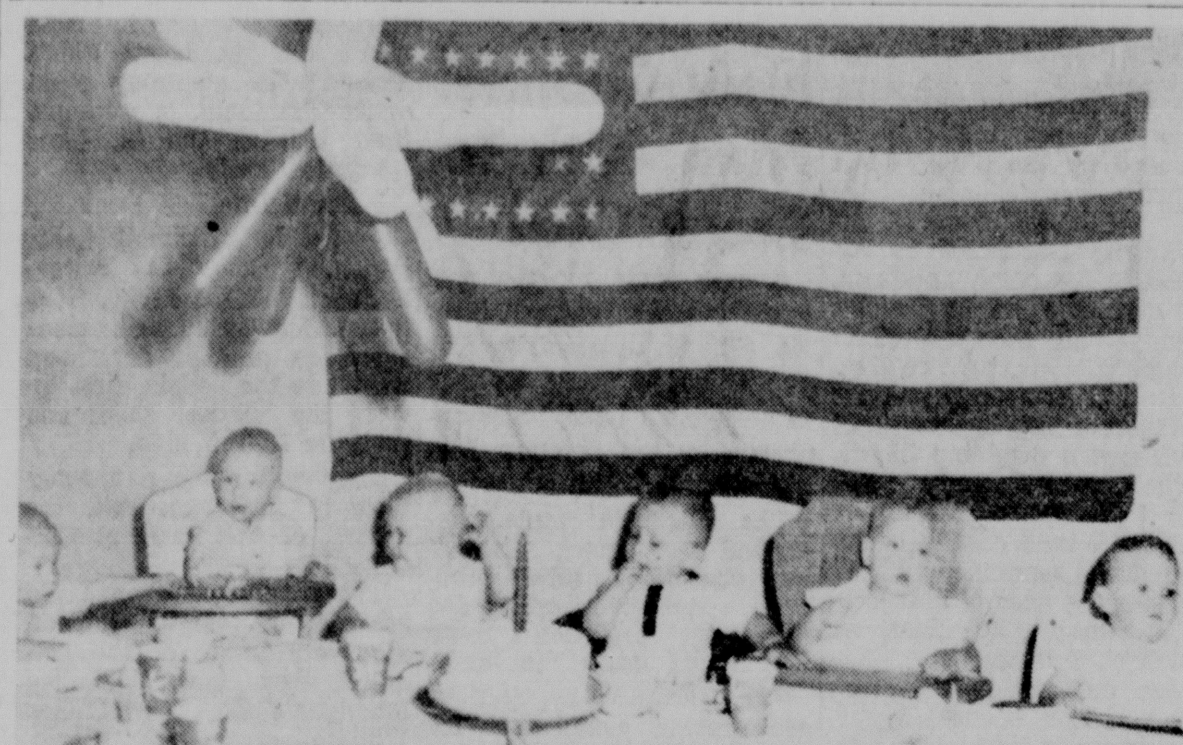

Omaha (AP) — Omaha Action pacifists will try a second time to enter the Nebraska Ordnance Plant near Mead as part of their protest against construction of a missile site there.
Bradford Lytle, co-ordinator, said the attempt will be made at 10 a.m. Monday. If they are barred they will attempt to climb the fence.
This would be a repeat of Wednesday's entry attempt which landed three of the pacifists in jail. The 3, the Rev. A. J. Muste, New York; Ross Anderson, Americus, Ga.; and Karl Meyer, Chicago were arrested and charged with trespassing. They pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Richard E. Robinson and were jailed under bonds of $1,000 each pending a probation office investigation.
Lytle said Wilmer Young, 71, Wallingford, Pa., will be one of the two who will make the new attempt to enter the plant.

Harvesting To Expand By Weekend

Rains and cool weather have delayed harvesting and eased the demand for harvest workers and machines in Nebraska, the State Employment Security Office of the U.S. Department of Labor reported Friday.
Harvesting is expected to pick up rapidly in south central and southwestern counties soon where there is now a surplus of machines.
In the Hastings area, custom cutters appear satisfied with yields, the office reported. Cutting is expected to expand during the weekend.
Around Kearney and Holdrege the demand for men and machines has been light, but cutting is expected to go into full swing by the week-end. A surplus of machines has been noted following rains earlier in the week.
Cutting in the McCook area has been generally limited to south of town, but is expected to expand over the weekend. Harvesting around Imperial is expected to begin next week. Demands for machines have been light.
Some machines have already migrated to the North Platte-Grant area where cutting is not expected to be under way until after July 4.
Combine Camp Set Up
Meanwhile, a combine camp has been established at the Phelps County fairgrounds in Holdrege to serve south central Nebraska farmers during the wheat harvest.

Patrol To Add 25-26 Men Oct. 1

Nebraska's Safety Patrol will be increased by 25 or 26 men beginning Oct. 1, Patrol Chief Col. C. J. Sanders said Friday.
The 1959 Legislature appropriated $3,845,000 for the Patrol for the 1959-61 biennium, plus the balance left from the 1957-59 biennium.
Col. Sanders said the exact number of additional men it will be possible to employ depends upon the unexpended balance, but that it appears it will be possible to add 25 or 26 men which would bring the total force of the Patrol to 195 or 196 men.
Applications for the Patrol's 5-week training camp, which will open at Camp Ashland August 15 or 17, have been sent to approximately 230 men who have indicated an interest in the Patrol since the last training program was held in 1958.
Col. Sanders said that after the applications have been reviewed he hopes to have 50 trainees in camp. From that number will be selected the men who will begin duty Oct. 1, and the remaining men who meet Patrol standards will be placed on reserve to be added as replacements are needed.
The Patrol chief said he presently has no trained men in reserve, and that if anyone leaves the Patrol between now and Oct. 1 for one reason or another, he will have no replacement until the August-September training program is completed.

Surprise Shot Enthuses Ike

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith
Thurmont, Md. (AP) — President Eisenhower sank a 10-year approach shot while playing golf Friday and let out a whoop of delight.
It happened on the tough fourth hole at the Gettysburg (Pa.) County Club course. Sinking the ball from that distance gave the President a par 4 and helped compensate for trouble with his drives at the start of an 18-hole round.
At Camp David
Eisenhower motored 25 miles to the course from Camp David, his Catocin Mountain retreat near here. He and Mrs. Eisenhower and a party of friends are spending the Fourth of July weekend at the camp.
Eisenhower played with two of his house guests, William E. Robinson of New York, board chairman of Coca-Cola, and George E. Allen, Washington businessman who has a country home near the President's Gettysburg farm.
When he got to the first tee Eisenhower hit 3 bad ones in a row and remarked in disgust:
"Golf darn it, I swear I am going to give up driving. Not any of them was any good."
But the 10-year approach shot he sank a bit later made him feel much better, other golfers on the course reported.

Car Financial Responsibility Is Increased

Car owners are required by a new law to increase their insurance or amounts of required financial responsibility, State Director of Insurance William E. Grubbs said Friday.
Under the old law, car owners were required to present evidence of ability to respond to damages for liability in the amount of $5,000.
The new law, LB628, increases the minimum to $10,000 liability coverage for bodily injury or death of one person in any one accident, $5,000 because of injury or destruction of property of others in any one accident.
In addition, Grubbs said, proof of financial responsibility could be shown under the old law by making a cash or security deposit of $11,000 instead of posting an insurance policy or bond.
The new law increases this deposit to $25,000 in the absence of sufficient insurance liability coverage, Grubbs said.
These requirements are normally met by liability insurance policies, Grubbs said, and many persons will have to either increase the limits of liability on their policies or post bonds or cash deposits.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked squares give you. DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

One letter simply stands for another. In this example, A is used for the three I, J, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
